L&T IPM DEAN'S MESSAGE

L&T, under the aegis of L&T IPM, runs a program titled “International Executive Master’s in Business with Specialization in Project Management (IEMB-PM)” for the employees of the L&T group of companies. IEMB with specialization in project management, is an important first level program which is a part of PRAGATI, L&T’s Project Leadership Development Program. Since 2018, L&T IPM has been in a very fruitful academic partnership with SDA Bocconi, offering a popular long-term program in business and project management.

L&T IPM and SDA Bocconi co-design and co-deliver the IEMB-PM Program, based on a unique combination of project and business management content and expertise, to upskill employee talent with the latest tools and techniques to handle complex projects in the future.

The IEMB-PM program is a carefully designed modular program spread over two years, with a 60-day duration to be delivered in 8 modules of 6-days duration each conducted every three months including 11 days of online sessions.

IEMB-PM focuses on a unique combination of project management and business management courses and is designed to up-skill the project execution talent and support the leadership ascent of young, high-calibre project professionals from E2 to M2-A cadre with the latest tools and techniques to handle L&T complex domestic and international projects, as well as effectively build and lead project businesses.

While going the academic rigour, the participants also create a business value through the Capstone project, a proud contribution from them, embedding innovation and value-creation in operational improvements of project execution related to their domain of work and for ready use by the sponsoring IC/SBG.

All the participants will have the opportunity to know global best practices from the professional collaborations that L&T IPM has. Don’t miss this exciting and enriching opportunity. All the best.

SDA BOCCONI SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT DEAN'S MESSAGE

With the aim to prepare future L&T business and project leaders by strengthening their managerial and business competence with specific focus on improving their ability to manage complex projects, which represent the core business of L&T, L&T IPM & SDA Bocconi have conceived this program.

The learning path is empowered by the opportunity to immediately apply concepts, skills, and know-how acquired through assignments, drawn from business and current managerial challenges. IEMB-PM is a rigorous, challenging, global and compact program for mid-senior level professionals, who want to accelerate their careers. It is designed to sharpen leadership skills and close the knowledge gap, providing the means to turn ideas into action and career development.

This Program provides immediate benefit and allows the development of the necessary competencies and attitudes to navigate the worldwide business arena and to become a Global Leader. The set of skills and competences to be developed in the program shall be specifically crafted, in term of contents and learning methodologies, in order to support participants, many of them with a technical background, to develop the necessary business acumen and managerial attitudes to navigate the challenges of domestic and international markets in which L&T operates.

L&T IPM Program Director

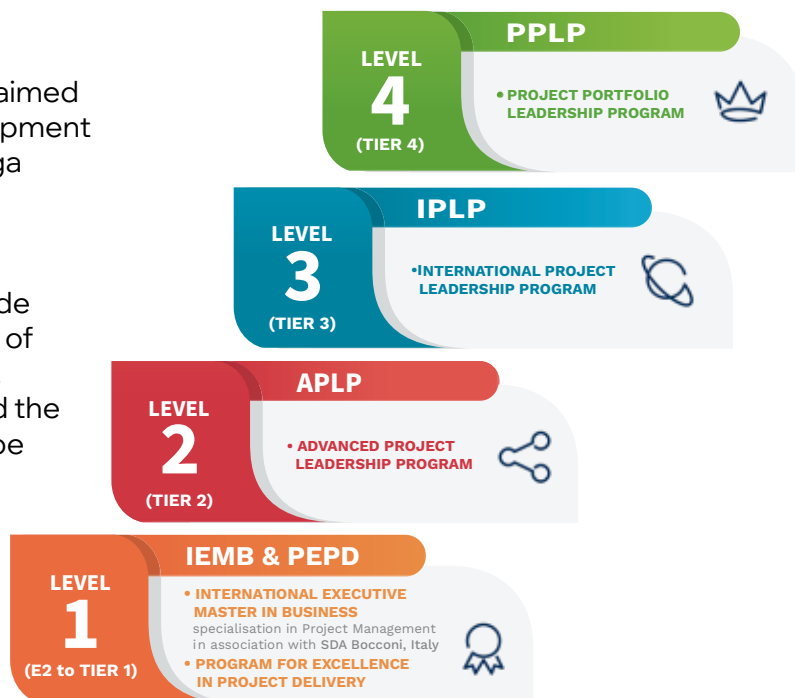

PRAGATI

PROJECT LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM CAREER PROGRESSION PROGRAM (CPP)

The Project Leadership Development Program (PLDP) of Larsen & Toubro is aimed at enabling the comprehensive development of project leaders who can handle mega projects and mega portfolios through competency-based development.

Prime objective of PRAGATI is to provide L&T employees, a clear understanding of his/her potential project management career path within the organization and the required competency development to be eligible for progressing into different project delivery positions.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

IEMB-PM Program with specialisation on project management is being offered jointly by L&T IPM and SDA Bocconi, Milano, Italy. The blended program in the form of on-campus and online contact sessions having rigorous and interactive course curriculum with high impact, real time and synchronised learning will be held at the iconic L&T IPM Vadodara and SDA Bocconi Asia Center campuses. Program duration of 60 days is spread over 2 years with contact session of 6 days/module every 3 months in 8 contact sessions including following

Classroom Contact Sessions:	47 days	376 hours
Online sessions:	11 days	88 hours
Capstone Project:	64 hours	non-classroom field project
Assignments and self-study	140 hours	between modules project assignment
Program Evaluation	2 days 16 hours	intermediate and final program evaluation

Participants are expected to invest sufficient time (not less than 2 hours/week) during the non-contact period in addition to performing to full expectations in their assigned roles in the Company. Executives will be provided with study material in various forms and also assignments on various subjects.

Participants are required to undertake the “Capstone Project”. The aim of the Capstone Project is to assess participants’ ability to synthesize and integrate the knowledge and skills they have developed throughout their Program work, rather than introducing new concepts.

The detailed guidelines for IEMB-PM are outlined in the student handbook and will be accessible in the student academic portal after enrollment.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

Participants will be able to

- Equip and uplift top-performing mid-level project professionals to senior management professionals to enable them make decisions and take strategic action to manage complex projects, which represent the core business of L&T.

The IEMB-PM program has been an incredibly valuable experience. This program effectively combines a general master's Program with specialized knowledge in project management, providing a global view of industry best practices. The program is designed with real-world scenarios in mind, case studies, and practical assignments that I can directly apply in my professional career. The program's flexibility and structure have enabled me to balance my professional commitments while pursuing this enriching academic experience. This program has not only broadened my understanding of key management concepts, such as strategy, teamwork, but it has also been a great opportunity to meet and learn from other professionals, expanding my network and boosting my confidence. I strongly recommend the IEMB-PM program to anyone who wants to grow in their career and gain practical knowledge in project management.

The International Executive Master's in business with specialization in Project Management (IEMBPM) is an exceptional course that offers rigorous project management expertise through the collaboration of L&T Institute of Project Management and SDA Bocconi Asia Center. This program combines the decades-long teaching legacy of SDA Bocconi with the practical, hands-on approach of IPM, creating a perfect blend that covers every aspect of the project lifecycle.

Joining the SDA Bocconi's IEMB-PM program, in partnership with L&T IPM, has been a life-changing experience that went beyond my expectations. The convenient campuses and flexible schedule made it possible for me to pursue my MBA while maintaining my full-time job in the manufacturing technology department. The curriculum's practical focus provided valuable insights beyond theoretical knowledge. Real-life project management scenarios and case studies reinforced the concepts learned, enabling their application in my professional role. Interacting with the esteemed faculty has been intellectually rewarding, greatly enhancing my professional growth. The program's networking opportunities have been priceless, allowing me to connect with industry leaders and peers. These connections have expanded my horizons and placed me at the cutting edge of my field.
